In mathematics, economics, and computer science, the stable marriage problem (also stable matching problem or SMP) is the problem of finding a stable matching between two equally sized sets of elements given an ordering of preferences for each element. A matching is a mapping from the elements of one set to the elements of the other set. A matching is not stable if:

PageRank (PR) is an algorithm used by Google Search to rank web pages in their search engine results. PageRank was named after Larry Page, one of the founders of Google. PageRank is a way of measuring the importance of website pages. According to Google: PageRank works by counting the number and quality of links to a page to determine a rough estimate of how important the website is.

1. Introduction. Complex Network Analysis (CNA) is a relatively young field of research. The first systematic studies appeared in the late 1990s, , , having the goal of studying the properties of large networks that behave as complex systems. The research owes a great deal of its foundations to the seminal work on Random Graphs of Erdős and Renyi, who studied asymptotic properties of ...
